The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jelinek.

Jelinek shows a vacuum apparatus. Prior to assembling the top plate 10, the device comprises a grid 14,18, a screen 28, and a tank 20 connected to a source of vacuum. Statements of intended use of the grid have no patentable significance. In any case, the grid of Jelinek is capable of performing the recited intended use; ie., multiple workpieces could be placed in the multiple grids.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jelinek.

The type of vacuum pump employed is no more than an obvious matter of design choice absent a showing of criticality for this feature. The examiner takes Official Notice that vacuum pumps of the rotary vane type are well known. To employ a rotary vane vacuum pump in Jelinek would have been obvious inasmuch as this is a readily available type of vacuum pump.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jelinek in view of Hillier.

Hillier teaches that a custom plate 14 can be used to plug selective holes of the vacuum screen. To employ a custom plate in Jelinek to plug selective holes of the vacuum screen would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made in view of the disclosure of Hillier. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this in order to assure that vacuum holes directly connected to a workpiece surface are operable.

Claims 10-25 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 9/28/05.
